Delhi, is a city and a union territory of India containing New Delhi, the capital of India. Delhi have an estimated population of over 26 million people, making it the world's third-largest urban area according to United Nations. Recent estimates of the metro economy of its urban area have ranked Delhi either the most or second-most productive metro area of India.

Delhi has been continuously inhabited since the 6th century BC. Through most of its history, Delhi has served as a capital of various kingdoms and empires. It has been captured, ransacked and rebuilt several times, particularly during the medieval period, and modern Delhi is a cluster of a number of cities spread across the metropolitan region.

A union territory, the political administration of the NCT of Delhi today more closely resembles that of a state of India, with its own legislature, high court and an executive council of ministers headed by a Chief Minister.
